Southampton Strikers Again Dispersed by the Military-Many Disorderly Acts. LONDON, Sept. 10.—The striking dock laborers, sailors and firemen at Southampton still maintain a menacing attitude, and the authorities fear that there may be further rioting. Notwithstanding the fact that a large force of police from London and other places are at Southampton for the purpose of aiding the local authorities, further detachments of troops have been summonded to assist in putting down any overt demonstration that the mob or strikers may attempt. Some of the strikers went out in small boats to await the arrival of incoming steamers with the object of persuading their crews to join in the strike. The admiralty has been asked to assist in preventing this move of the strikers. Eight men were arrested for taking part in the rioting yesterday. To-day a mob gathered about the Mayor's residence and made threatening demonstrations. The Mayor telephoned for assistance and a number of soldiers were dispatched in cabs to disperse the crowd. Several bodies of troops arrived here this afternoon and evening.

Seventeen more arrests of strikers for resisting the authorities have been made today. The mob tore down the placards containing the Mayor's address urging the strikers to remain at their homes. Business throughout the town is almost paralyzed. Before charging the crowds last night with bayonets the troops threatened several times to fire, but without making any im pression.

The employers held a meeting and subsequently issued a hand-bill promising every protection to men returning to work. The union submitted a proposal for an advance in wages, undertaking not to ask a further increase for two years to come. The employers, however, declined to accept the condition that no non-union men should be

At 9 o'clock to-night the troops were obliged to make a succession of bayonet charges in order to clear the streets.

At this hour (midnight) the excitement has subsided. The infantry hold all the approaches to the docks. The Royal Mail Company has locked out all of its men, and has ordered its vessels to go to Plymouth instead of putting in here.

Two gun-boats have arrived off this port The union has issued an order withdrawing their pickets. This action causes much surprise, and is giving color to a rumor that the London leaders have not replied to telegrams from the strikers here appealing for help, and that they decline to support the movement. As the strikers were expecting strike pay from London at the end of the week their ardor for their movement is probably dampened

How the Late Canon Lyddon Incurred Queen

Victoria's Everlasting Displeasure. LONDON, Sept. 10.-The death of Canon Lyddon yesterday recalls the one incident of his long ministerial career which prevented his promotion. Thirty years ago he was one of the most brilliant pulpit orators in the United Kingdom. Tall, handsome, commanding, sympathetic, he always attracted vast congregations. The Queen, using the crown prerogative, ordered him to preach in St. George's Chapel, Windsor. He delivered a semi-personal sermon, during which, and in imitation of French bishops, he saluted the young sovereign as madame. Her Majesty felt indignant. She sent for him after the service and demanded an explanation. Lyddon gave his authority, and declared he had no intention of giving offense. His apology was not accepted, and the authorities at Lambeth Place were told that whenever promotions were considered Lyddon was not to be named. This order was obeyed until 1882, when the Queen withdrew it in consideration of a magnificent eulogy he delivered on the Prince Consort, after the latter's death. But it was not forgiven, and the Canon died under the ban of royal dis-Canon Lyddon's remains were buried to-

Mail Robbed of Important Documents. STUTTGART, Sept. 10 .- A sensational rol bery of the mails occurred here yesterday. A post bag containing 30,000 marks and twenty-one registered letters disappeared this morning on their way between Friedricshhafen and this point. The Emperor is now staying at Friedricshhafen, and the bag, among other letters, contained documents touching on the court-martial now in progress at the military easino upon members of the Lancers. The bag was found to-day in Lake Constance. It had been rifled of its contents, and nothing was dis-covered anywhere about that would give any clew to the perpetrator of the deed. It is supposed to have been done by some one who had an interest in keeping these documents away from the court-martial.

Canisteo, Elmira, Hornellsville and Other Places in New York Flooded by Rains.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CANISTEO, N. Y., Sept. 10.-The people of this town were aroused at 4 o'clock by an alarm which proved to be that of a flood. A continuous hard rain had succeeded in raising Purdy and Bennett's creeks, which overflowed their banks, and for the third time inside of two years all the south and west portion of the village is a sea of water. Cellars are full, walks float, gardens covered and a general appearance of desolation prevails. No particular damage is anticipated, however, except to two or three individuals. The Canisteo river, which flows across the north end of the village, is also over its banks, mundating that portion of the village, and causing some of the inhabitants move to the second stories their houses. The Erie road is completely blocked. All kinds of business is at a stand-still. Several bridges over the small creeks have been washed away. PERU, Sept. 10 .- Daniel Waits, the Lake Erie & Western railway conductor of train No. 93, south-bound, had an unpleasant encounter with six tramps early this morning, which may possibly prove the death of one Robert Kelly, whose residence is unknown. These tramps have been a nuisance generally for the past few days in this city, and yesterday afternoon they succeeded in getting drunk. Early in the night Depot policeman Shanabarger ejected them from a train, and later Waits, in going around his train, found them in loaded car. A demand to vacate was met with jeers and taunts, but further demands

The Leading Democratic Paper of Indiana Defines the Position of the Party.

Evansville Courier. The Democratic newspapers have never been consulted by those claiming leadership in proclaiming party policies, but wholly unworthy of it because of their selfish ambitions. For ten years past there has been a representative of the Courier on the committee to prepare the State platform. He has always been confronted with politicians engaged in other vocations and who have not been in touch with the people. These alleged representatives of Democracy have invariably battled against the doctrine of free trade in the committee-room. They have said, with emphatic unction, that they were "free-traders outright." But they have said, with that guardianship of public opinion which professional politicians always egotistically assume, that the people must first be "educated" before the party should openly proclaim the views of those who set themselves up as oracles of Democratic faith.

It is a shameful thing that there should be any ground for equivocation in any direction of party policy. It is especially shameful that the Democracy of Indiana should have failed to proclaim what Democracy everywhere meant, freedom, liber-ty in every vocation of life. It is treason against the principles of every comment on the Constitution of the United States made the Constitution of the United States made by Democratic statesmen to pretend that there has ever been any other party policy of Democracy than free trade as absolute as that preclaimed by the Constitution itself between the States, except for purposes of revenue. It is shameful apostasy for any Democrat claiming to be a leader to advocate or defend that insidious process of plunder known under the fraudulent pretense, "protection to American labor." It is opposed to every idea of Democratic government that there should be any one to urge "protection" for any purpose, except that protection which secures to the people liberty and their right to enjoy the full fruits of labor.

Wrecked by a Misplaced Switch. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10.-A misplaced switch at Lumber street, in this city, sent the night boat express from the north, on the Delaware & Hudson road crashing into a freight train to-night. Very fortunately the train was going but slowly, it having stopped a few blocks beyond for some reason. No lives were lost, a few persons being thrown from their seats and bruised. The switchman, Frank Hatch, is a Knight of Labor man who resumed his position today. He says he left his switch for a few minutes and it was tampered with. Both engines were badly smashed, and the passenger engine was derailed.

various other measures that are intimately connected with the prosperity of the country, the Democrats have from the first sought to delay the era of prosperous times by the most disreputable means. There has not been a sentence spoken in the Senate on the trivial amendments offered by the Democrats that will ever be quoted save to bring confusion upon the utterer. The Senators not lost to shame must blush when they review their really childish speeches. They certainly care nothing for the common prosperity, and still less for the verdict of the people. In 1888 the American people, by an enormous majority, decided to continue the protective policy. The Republicans pledged themselves to revise the tariff on protective lines. The people voted for on protective lines. The people voted for such revision. But the representatives of the Democratic party in Congress stand opposed to the will of the people publicly expressed. Now, unless we much mistake the temper of the people they will reckon with the Democratic party for this insolent conduct. With a Democrat an election stands for nothing and decides nothing unless it favors Democratic candidates. The masses may be slow to move, but they are not stupid, at least not as stupid as an average Democratic leader is dishonest and dis-nonorable.

New Albeny Tribune. The effect the Democratic platform has had upon the spirits and energies of Republicans is wonderful. There was a great deal of apathy until the issuance of that slanderous assault, but since then there is the same life and spirit that characterized 1888. It will be worth 20,000 votes to the Republican party.
